LEAGUE MANCHURIA COMMISSION PLAN SUCCEEDING

Pilot Hinkler Reported Flying Atlantic Japan and China Ready To Accept Manchuria Peace Plan If Modified

Word From Daring Brazil-to-Africa Flier Is Awaited

Dakar, Senegal, West Africa, Said to Have Been Goal of Bert Hinkler, World-famous Australian Aviator, When He Hopped Off From Natal, at Eastern Extremity of Brazil

Associated Press
Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 26.—An Aero Postal message from Natal, on the Brazil coast, to-day said Bert Hinkler, noted Australian flier, had started from there yesterday for Dakar, French West Africa, and had not been heard from since the take-off.

Capt. Bert Hinkler, who has made a number of long distance flights, covered the distance from England to Australia in fifteen days in 1928. That was a record then and it stood for two years until Squadron Leader Charles Kingsford-Smith made the flight in ten days in 1930.

Last month Capt. Hinkler flew from New York to Kingston, Jamaica, in seventeen hours forty-five minutes, a record for that distance, and continued on down across the Caribbean and to Natal, Brazil.

Should he succeed in a flight from Natal to Dakar, Africa, an undertaking he would be the first aviator to cross the south Atlantic from west to east. Dakar is something more than 1,500 miles in an air line from Natal. It is only a comparatively short distance from the Cape Verde Islands, which lie off the west coast of Africa.

RAIDS MADE ON HITLERITES
Material of "Highly Treasonable Character" Seized By Police in Hesse, Germany

Associated Press
Darmstadt, Germany, Nov. 26.—An official announcement to-day said a quantity of material of "a highly treasonable character, and directed against the state," had been seized in raids on the headquarters of the National Socialist leaders in Hesse yesterday evening by order of the public prosecutor.

Adolf Hitler's headquarters at Munich denied any of the material seized was treasonable, adding the National Socialists had nothing to hide, and that "anyway they will be in power soon."

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN
The National Socialists branded as a forgery one document seized which purported to be a "plan of campaign" outlining measures to be adopted when the party comes into power. It included confiscation of foodstuffs and feeding the hungry at public kitchens, compulsory labor for all German men above the age of sixteen, death to those refusing obedience to Nazi decrees and confiscation of private property.

The raid was treated by the press and political circles throughout Germany as an event of the first magnitude.

TURKISH PREMIER IS INJURED
Istanbul, Nov. 26.—Ismet Pasha, Premier of Turkey, to-day was suffering from painful injuries received in an automobile accident yesterday evening.

The Premier, who had come from Ankara to consult physicians about his health, suffered severe cuts about the head, but doctors said the injuries were not serious.

The summarized decisions finally approved here yesterday afternoon at the closing meeting of the National Liberal Organization Committee, and no time is to be lost in creating and developing the National Liberal Association.

LEEMING'S PLANS

Mr. Leeming, mayoralty candidate, announced this morning that he had opened committee rooms at 620 Fort Street where charts of tax fluctuations and other matters of civic interest are on display. Mr. Leeming will speak over the radio at 8.15 o'clock to-morrow evening and will hold the main meeting of his campaign on the evening of December 7 at the Chamber of Commerce.

All candidates are invited to speak at a meeting under the auspices of the Foul Bay Community Association on the night of December 2, next Wednesday, at 7.45 o'clock. Majority candidates will be given eleven minutes each and other candidates five minutes.

WORLD MUST DISARM OR PERISH, SAYS LORD CECIL
Paris, Nov. 26.—"Unless the world disarms it will perish," Viscount Cecil of Great Britain told 1,000 delegates of world peace organizations at the opening of their International Conference on Disarmament here to-day.

The delegates represent seventeen countries.

"We believe in international disarmament and are anxious to have a demonstration showing the will of the people of the world and expressing their desire for it," Lord Cecil continued. "That is what we are here for."

"Our movement has the support of our respective governments and we hope to accomplish valuable work contributing to world peace."

The conference will close to-morrow evening.

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 26.—Tom Mix to-day was nearing the crisis in his fight for his life. The screen actor was semi-conscious, and his fate was expected by his physicians to be known within twenty-four hours.

Nootka Indian Died From Natural Causes

Provincial Police Find After Investigation That Jackson Not Victim of Foul Play

William, Chaiclesah Indian, Shot at Kyuquot, Rapidly Recovering in Hospital

After investigating the death of Justin Jackson, Nootka Indian, who was discovered dead in his shack near Nootka with bruises on his face and neck, Sgt. F. D. Markland, of the Provincial Police, reported at 1.40 p.m. to-day to headquarters here that Jackson died from natural causes.

The finding of the body was reported to Constable W. H. P. Nightingale, Indian Department officer stationed at Port Alberni, by J. Jackson, brother of the dead man, who asked for instructions as to the disposal of the corpse.

The circumstances of Jackson's death were investigated by Edward E. Frost, Indian agent at Port Alberni, and Sgt. Markland of the Provincial Police, who went north by the Ss. Princess Marguerite to trail the man who shot William, Chaiclesah Indian, near Kyuquot.

WILLIAM RECOVERING
William was admitted to the West Coast Hospital at Port Alberni on November 17, and a report giving available details of the shooting was forwarded by Indian Agent Frost to W. E. Ditchburn, inspector of Indian Agencies for B.C., with offices in Victoria.

William was shot, presumably while trapping, in the vicinity of Kyuquot. The shooting appeared to be intentional, as the man was shot four times by a shotgun, according to the report of Mr. Frost. The pellets lodged in the back, right arm, right side of chest and body, but none pierced the walls of the body.

The injured man was given immediate attention by Dr. A. D. Morgan.

Two-Thirds of Dominion Loan Now Subscribed

Financial Men in Montreal Estimate Total in Canada More Than $100,000,000

Canadian Press
Montreal, Nov. 26.—Subscriptions to the National Service Loan had mounted to $84,000,000 at noon to-day, the central committee here announced. The official figure was based only on definite returns to the committee up to noon and did not include numerous reports from smaller centres which had not reached here. These were expected to swell the figure considerably and in financial quarters it was estimated more than two-thirds of the $150,000,000 issue had already been subscribed.

Applications from institutional investors since yesterday evening amounted to $470,000. The largest was one of $250,000 by the Excelsior Life Assurance Company.

Included in the list of applications by institutions yesterday was one of $10,000 by the Dominion of Canada General Assurance Company, which to-day was corrected by the committee to $35,000.

MANY MESSAGES
Messages continued to reach the committee to-day from coast to coast reporting the continued enthusiasm of purchasers. Emphasis was again placed on the response of private persons who are buying the bonds from their savings.

Yesterday Victor A. Sinclair, director of the Ontario Workmen's Compensation Board, said that organization would subscribe at least $500,000.

LYA DE PUTTI CRITICALLY ILL
New York, Nov. 26.—Lya de Putti's condition continued critical to-day, with physicians remaining in constant attendance on her. The petite film star is suffering from pneumonia and blood poisoning which set in after a chicken bone had been removed from her throat.

NOVA SCOTIA PREMIER IS IN HOSPITAL

Canadian Press

Harrington, Premier of Nova Scotia, was a patient in a hospital here to-day, was stated an operation might be necessary before the province's chief executive could return to his desk in the Ministry of Mines office, from which he directs Nova Scotia's affairs.

Under the eye of his physician, the Premier yesterday evening delivered two addresses just before being driven to the hospital.

CAUTION IS SAID TO INFLUENCE BENNETT SPEECH

No Such Bold Tariff Statement Yesterday Evening in London as Last Year

By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Nov. 26.—Two of London's leading morning papers to-day gave streamer headline prominence to reports of the speech delivered yesterday evening by Premier Bennett of Canada at the dinner given in his honor by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain.

Over its front page, the "Morning Post" carried the headline: "Mr. Bennett's speech 'The New Chronicle' carried the line, 'Canadian Premier's Historic Call. Epoch-making Declaration for United Empire.'"

In its largest type, headed its story with a quotation from the Canadian Prime Minister's declaration: "I am still one of those who cherish the view that if we establish that League of Nations within this Empire there is no problem we will not solve, no difficulty we will not overcome."

The "Evening Standard" of the page, however, said Mr. Bennett had disclaimed any intention of talking politics.

ON SORTER NOTE
The reporter of The News-Chronicle said his impression of the banquet was that Mr. Bennett, whom he described as "the star turn," was very much chastened in comparison with what he said on his last visit when he dropped that rather bad brick about Canada First.

"Beyond saying the political empire has passed and that we should have to substitute another for it, he gave no satisfaction to the food tasters who hung expectantly to his lips," the reporter wrote.

Farm Tariff Bill Before British M.P.'s Next Week

London, Nov. 26.—Premier MacDonald to-day told the Commons a preliminary financial resolution to authorize customs duties on agricultural products would be placed before the House next Monday.

Sir John Gilmour, Minister of Agriculture, to-day announced in the Commons the government had decided to apply the principle of a quota to home produced wheat of milling quality and to introduce legislation in time to make the scheme effective for next year's crop.

Sir John added the government had decided to introduce a bill to bring about a reduction of imports of certain non-essential agricultural products, which on account of their early maturity outside Great Britain anticipated the harvest of the home crops.

CANNED FRUITS
Rt. Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, former secretary of State for the Dominions, asked if the government's scheme would cover imports of canned and bottled vegetables and fruits, and whether any decision had been reached to include the quota principle to include Empire produce.

Sir John replied Mr. Amery would have to wait for his answer until the introduction of the bill.

British farmers for some time since the National Government came into power have urged their products be given the protection of a tariff on incoming farm products, while growers of wheat throughout the United Kingdom have repeatedly suggested the advisability of a quota system to set a minimum on the British wheat content of flour milled.

Shooting of a deer usually is not a matter of great importance but a sign of relief was heaved by a number of vitally interested persons in Victoria to-day when the news was received of a hunter's success in the woods of the southern end of Vancouver Island.

For several days now the members of the committee in charge of the opera, "Robin Hood," have been on the lookout for a frisky young deer, whose carcass must be used as an essential piece of stage property, in the performance. Several hunters had promised to secure one but no word of success was reported.

Just as members of the committee were despairing this morning and were reluctantly making plans to use a few old skins that had been resurrected from a dusty store-room, news was received that Charles Burr of 2553 Quadra Street, had been successful and had bagged a pretty specimen late yesterday afternoon. He was one of the hunters who have been out scouring the woods during the last few days in search of one of the elusive animals.

To-day the carcass is being prepared and dressed for its stage appearance to-morrow evening.

A. E. HALL HELD IN THE U.S. FOR DEPORTATION

Former Pacific Coast Boy, Self-appointed Prison Chaplain, in Jail at Cleveland

Associated Press
Cleveland, O., Nov. 26.—"Rev. Dr." Alfred Ernest George Hall, erstwhile self-appointed chaplain of the Cuyahoga County Jail, languished within a barred cell here to-day on an order of federal immigration authorities.

Attention was directed at Hall yesterday when Common Pleas Judge George P. Baer ordered the "chaplain" barred permanently from his courtroom after Hall had insisted on appearing in behalf of a considerable number of accused persons, and ordered his record investigated.

Yesterday evening Hall, according to county and federal authorities, admitted a long criminal record, and the fact he twice had been deported from the United States, John D. Northrup, immigration inspector, ordered "Dr." Hall held for United States immigration authorities.

RECORD LOOKED UP
Hall's record, revealed from files of the bureau of investigation of the American Association, showed the "doctor" had been arrested three times in Vancouver, B.C., on various charges, arrested in Chicago and deported, and again arrested in Chicago and charged as an undesirable alien. Three times he went to court in Toronto. Altogether he served four sentences.

From Vancouver to 6. Hall, billed as a "world-famous evangelist," conducted an evangelistic campaign in Akron, but ran into trouble when a cheque for payment for the Army Navy Club came back marked "insufficient funds."

Coming to Cleveland, he introduced himself as a "fellow clergyman" to a puncheon Chevrolet dealer, who introduced him to Sheriff John C. Sullivan. October 10 he adopted the county jail as a parish and since that time had been its self-ordained pastor.

CANTON HAS MARTIAL LAW

Canton, China, Nov. 26.—Admiral Chen Chak, commander-in-chief of the Cargonese navy, declared martial law here to-day, following a split in the leadership of the Cantonese South China Government over an alliance with Nanking.

The dissension here began with the repudiation this week by the local Fourth Kuomintang Congress of agreements reached at a conference of peace delegates of the Canton and Nanking governments at Shanghai, in which means were sought to bring together the two ruling factions for a unified administration.

The Kuomintang congress here, which was going on simultaneously with one at Nanking, repudiated the agreements made by the Canton delegates and the delegates, including such internationally known leaders as Eugene Chen and Sun Fo, bolted, going to Macao, where they now are.

The reins of power here now are in the hands of those opposed to Nanking.

Admiral Chen is one of those who continues to favor reconciliation with Nanking.

Nanking Wants Resolution Strengthened; Japanese Wish Way Left Clear to Pursue Bandits; Council at Paris To-morrow May Formally Adopt Resolution; British Troops Prepared to Protect British Properties Along Peiping-Mukden Railway

Associated Press
Paris, Nov. 26.—Representatives of both China and Japan were reported to-day to have informed Aristide Briand they were ready to accept, with modifications, the League of Nations Council's tentative proposal for restoring peace in Manchuria.

Dr. Alfred Sze, acting on instructions from Nanking, was said to have told Mr. Briand China would insist on modifications to strengthen the League's resolution and to provide for sending neutral observers into the Manchurian sphere of action.

NO CHINESE ARMY RETREAT AT CHINCHOW
General Says Troops There Will Fight to Last If Japanese in Manchuria Attack

By Glenn Babb, Associated Press Staff Correspondent
Chinchow, Manchuria, Nov. 26.—Faced with continual reports which, he said, indicated the Japanese were advancing on this, the last remaining centre of independent Chinese rule in South Manchuria, Gen. Yung Chen, Chinese chief of staff, told me to-day he planned to defend the city to the limit of his power.

We talked in the principal inn of the town, where he received me and where yesterday evening he gave a dinner in honor of Lieut.-Colonel Nelson Margrette, United States military attaché, and the British and French attaches who arrived yesterday from Peiping to observe the expected Japanese drive.

With Gen. Yung was Gen. Mi Chung-ling, acting chairman of the Provisional Government here.

Gen. Yung is chief of staff for Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian governor who was driven from Mukden at the beginning of the present trouble.

RUMORS DENIED
He denied reports the Chinese have been preparing an offensive in this area to attempt to regain lost portions of the province.

TWO FIRES IN ESQUIMALT AREA

Barbecue Stand Guttled By Flames; House and Store Badly Damaged

Fires this morning destroyed a barbecue stand outside the Halfway House, Esquimalt Road, and gutted the home of Capt. V. Jacobson, 497 Head Street.

The Halfway House fire broke out at 2 o'clock, and the flimsy structure, owned by Mrs. Francis Hill, was a blazing mass in a short time. Esquimalt fire-fighters and police responded to an alarm, but the fire had gained such headway all efforts to halt it was unavailing.

Including contents the damage is estimated between $800 and $1,000.

At 10 o'clock this morning flames of undetermined origin attacked the combined home and confectionery store of Capt. Jacobson. It is thought the fire started in the high wind.

A volunteer force from Work Point Barracks turned out and had two hoses playing on the flames when the municipal department arrived. Before the flames were extinguished the structure was practically ruined.

Insurance to the amount of $500 was carried and the damage is estimated about $1,000.

GREATER ANNUAL OUTPUT OF GOLD IN B.C. PREDICTED

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 26.—Reawakened interest in gold mining promises greater annual output in this province in the next few years.

With this prediction J. D. Galloway, provincial mineralogist, concluded a review of gold mining opportunities in British Columbia made by him this morning at the continued session of the annual western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy and the B.C. Mining Association.

An interested audience gathered to hear Mr. Galloway give his comprehensive resume of the gold mining situation in British Columbia. It is significant of the intense revival of interest in gold mining that papers on the subject occupy a large place in the programme of the meeting, which began yesterday and will conclude Friday evening.

In "reasonably indicated" and "possible" ore, both classes confined to known mines and not including prospects and semi-developed properties, British Columbia had in sight gold reserves to the value of $30,000,000, Mr. Galloway declared.

"Admittedly this figure involves estimates and guesses with which some may not agree," explained the provincial mineralogist.

"Of reasonably indicated gold reserves, I estimate 800,000 ounces and in possible extensions and developments of known ore bodies a further 700,000 ounces. This is a total of 1,500,000 ounces, or $30,000,000 in value. These figures may be too conservative or too optimistic, but they at least give some measure of what may be anticipated.

"This total of $30,000,000 is about eight or nine years' supply at our present rate of output."

BRUHN ASSERTS HIS FAITH IN B.C. TAXPAYERS

They Will Not Object to Reasonable Increases in Present Crisis, He Says

Taxpayers of British Columbia will not object to increased provincial taxation at the present time to help the government in the unemployment crisis it is handling, Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works, predicted last evening in his address before the Sanich Conservatives at Marigold Hall. He dealt with the whole relief problem.

Mr. Bruhn explained that the government had rushed the erection of 210 temporary and semi-permanent camps at a cost of $800,000. From the commencement of work this fall 27,700 men have been given employment averaging twenty days, with a total of $1,691,392 paid in allowances, each worker averaging $61. In addition 8,221 families, with 36,000 individuals, have been receiving direct relief at a cost of more than $800,000.

BLOCKED BY FINANCIAL CRISIS
"The province has been fully alive to the situation and had entered upon a programme adequate to the needs, only to find that due to financial problems it was beyond the control of the government," the proposed programme had to be cut in half and that similar action was being taken in all other provinces," Mr. Bruhn went on.

"We are taking practical steps to deal with our problems in British Columbia, but the measures we have in mind are temporary expedients which will involve necessarily a great expenditure of money we can ill afford."

TAXPAYERS MUST PAY
"Money expended on unemployment relief will ultimately have to come out of the taxpayers' pockets, but I have a great deal of faith in the taxpayers of British Columbia and I do not believe they will object to any reasonable increase in taxation should such be found necessary as long as the money is used for that purpose and that purpose only."

Mr. Bruhn said the break and crisis in the financing arrangements between the governments came at the time Britain abandoned the gold standard, which had a serious repercussion on financing all over the world.

HOPES TO OPEN CAMPS AGAIN
"This made the financing of any undertaking a seriously difficult matter," he went on. "It was wise and necessary to curtail borrowings as far as possible."

"If work is started up again, as I hope it will, I will stake my reputation that every cent invested in camps and equipment will be amply repaid, not only in providing work for the needy, but in the general improvement of the economic system, every bit of which would have had to have been carried out in the next year or two."

SEES SAVING IN FUTURE
"The work carried out in the main has been satisfactory and would return a saving to the province in future years. It has been concentrated on main highways and connecting links, making a permanent improvement to the road system of the province."

"What has been done in connection with the unemployment problem in this province I consider has been in the best interest, not only of the province, but of those for whom no other form of employment was open."

TRAIL BOOM AND FALL
Mr. Bruhn rehearsed the conditions leading up to the boom and fall of 1928-29, stating that from 1898 onward to 1928 there had been an average increase in Canadian industrial activity of more than 7 per cent yearly. In the spring of 1928 prosperity was at its greatest point in Canadian history. Almost overnight this condition changed, with the collapse of the wheat, and the great depression of those factors on which Canadian industrial life was based, and the causes were outside of any control, except in a world-wide sense.

In 1930, he continued, the provincial government had had sole authority to direct where and how relief work was to be carried out, and who was to be employed, with the result that 33,000 individuals had been given work, and 5,500 families with 16,000 individuals had been given direct relief. In this connection, he showed, the work and relief had been carried out to the express satisfaction of the Dominion authorities.

CHANGES FOR 1931

In 1931 plans for important changes were made in the basis of relief measures in the national programme applied in all provinces. In addition to providing work for the unemployed in unorganized districts, the government was now expected to take care of all transients and men without dependents; the men were to be employed through the Employment Service of Canada, who found it sometimes difficult to distinguish between those really in need and those who were not; and instead of the allocation of small sums for work in local settlements, the whole plan was based on specified highways, where camps had been erected; and lastly, the numbers of unemployed concerned had grown, through the exhaustion of their resources in continued depression of general business conditions.

After visits to this province of Hon. R. H. Stevens and Hon. Gideon Roberson on behalf of the federal government, a working understanding had been arrived at between the two governments. Mr. Bruhn recalled. The agreement reached at August 19 last was that work was to be proceeded with at once on certain highways; that work, and not direct relief, was to be provided; and that no responsibility for day to day relief would be accepted by the Dominion authorities after that date.

BENNETT URGED SPEEDING UP

On September 4, Mr. Bruhn continued, R. H. Bennett wired Premier Tolmie that the Dominion Government was particularly interested in immediate action being taken to relieve the unemployment situation in large centres, also requesting advice on what undertakings the Dominion Government would be prepared to undertake in connection with the relief of the unemployed men employed. Premier Tolmie, he said, replied in detail, setting out the work commenced, and the fact that $4,000 had been expended at that time, and that the expenditure would largely depend on the numbers for which provision would have to be made. Later the Dominion Government found it necessary, in the light of conditions all over the country, to curtail all relief plans.

Under the agreement entered between the two governments, each was to put up half of all provincial relief work; the federal government was to pay half of municipal proposals, including materials, and would finance by way of loans the provincial government in respect to all municipal relief undertakings, and all transients and men without dependents domiciled in the province were to be placed in camps connected with these undertakings.

OVER 40,000 REGISTERED IDLE
Acting on this clear understanding, said Mr. Bruhn, and in accordance with various telegraphic advices received, the provincial government commenced to speed up its project, by establishing camps and starting work. The registration showed 40,239 persons who had sworn to the fact that they were in urgent need of assistance, and 47,133 of these were in municipalities, half of whom were married and half single, with 15,798 in unorganized districts, and 7,810 in the latter category.

Under the agreement with the federal government, it meant that 41,760 men, or 80 per cent of the unemployed, were to be provided for jointly by the two governments, leaving 18,493, or 31 per cent, for the municipalities to assume. Municipalities had their plans approved to the extent of nearly $8,750,000, for 31 per cent of the problem; while the province was asked to carry on with $1,250,000 covering the remaining 69 per cent of the unemployed. If 50 per cent of those registered did not stand in real need of help, it still left 31,233 persons who did, he added.

WORLD AVOID DIRECT RELIEF
Mr. Bruhn made it clear that he was attaching no blame to the federal government, which had itself been faced with a most difficult situation. "The grave and serious situation is that unless further provision is made we will not be able to resume work for the men in camp," said Mr. Bruhn. "No further work would mean direct relief, and this, besides having no more effect on the men themselves, is most objectionable. I am convinced that under direct relief a large number of men desiring employment in the camps will remain in the cities, thus creating further problems for the municipalities."

"Realizing the seriousness of the situation, Ottawa is late in the matter before the federal government there, and received every possible co-operation. An understanding that the Dominion government would advance one-half million dollars per month for work was reached, and I hope such financial arrangements will soon be made that will enable us to the advantage of this offer," Mr. Bruhn stated.

FOOD CARRIED TO INDIANS IN NEW MEXICO

Associated Press

Gallup, N.M., Nov. 26.—White men were toiling over snowbanked trails south of here to-day carrying food to 1,200 Navajo and Zuni Indians who are living on pinon nuts—after being trapped by a blizzard on the high mesas of Malpais.

Four Indians, including one papoose, were frozen to death. This was learned in the settlements yesterday evening when a band of horsemen who reached a Zuni village after struggling for hours through miles of deeply drifted snow, returned here.

A family of three Navajos and a lone man had died in their camps near Atarque, they said. Pears were left for the other families who were on the high mesas gathering pinon nuts when the storm enveloped them. They were thought to be huddled in open camps on the barren table-top mountain with only wagon sheets for shelter.

The chief danger of distress to-day seemed to be around Atarque, a village of about 300 persons. Unless food should reach the Indians of the Atarque region at once many would die of starvation and exposure, it was said.

Many Arrested In Detroit Free For Thanksgiving

Detroit, Nov. 26.—Thirty-one persons were arrested yesterday afternoon in a brush between police and 500 unemployed who attempted a demonstration in this city were free to-day, under instructions from Mayor Murphy that they be permitted to spend Thanksgiving holiday with their families.

Only those who assaulted policemen were to be prosecuted, the mayor said. The police used tear gas bombs to disperse the demonstrators, and said two gas bombs were thrown from the ranks of the demonstrators. One policeman was slightly injured.

Among those arrested was John Schmes, Communist candidate for mayor in last month's primary. He was charged with disturbing the peace.

British M.P.'s Are Told Manchuria Outlook Improves

London, Nov. 26.—Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, speaking in the Commons yesterday, said information reaching him indicated a more encouraging outlook on Manchuria.

"I think we may now assume there is no desire on the side of Japan to insist on the recognition of disputed treaty rights as one of the terms on which she is prepared to consent to a League inquiry," he said.

Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, leader of the Labor opposition, who initiated the debate, asked other members to refrain from speaking, and said that like every one else, he wished Sir John Goddard in his efforts to aid the League in arbitrating the controversy.

SCHOOL BOY WAS BOOTLEGGER

Associated Press

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 26.—Arrested yesterday in his classroom at a grade school after a quantity of liquor had been found in his desk, Robert Roman, fourteen, confessed, juvenile authorities said, that he was a full-fledged bootlegger.

Roman was quoted as saying he brewed wine in a basement at his home, gave it away, sold it to cronies and sometimes "traded it for tops and jackknives."

The denouement came when the boy appeared at school yesterday slightly intoxicated.

He was ordered placed on probation in care of his parents, who had been ignorant of his abilities as a vintner.

F.E.I. AND LOAN

Canadian Press
Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 26.—Making an appeal by radio yesterday evening in behalf of the National Service Loan, Premier J. D. Stewart declared that while Prince Edward Island was the smallest province in area and population, it would not yield first place to any other Canadian sister in loyalty to the confederation of provinces.

ARMY CONTROL IN INDIA NOT NEW ASSEMBLY'S TASK

Associated Press

London, Nov. 26.—The conviction that Great Britain cannot at this time relinquish control of the army in India to the Indian Legislature was expressed by a majority of the federal structures committee of the Round-Table Conference in a draft report made public yesterday evening. The report was issued after Mahatma Gandhi, abandoning hope in the outcome of the conference, had announced he was ready to return to India and start the civil disobedience campaign all over again.

The declaration that Britain must retain control of the army in India was contained in a report drawn up by Lord Banker, Lord Chancellor.

Some members of the committee, the report said, strongly urged no true responsibility for her own government would be conferred on India unless defence—which was defined as control of the army, including British troops—were placed in the hands of the Indian ministry responsible to the Indian Legislature.

The majority of the committee, however, held it was impossible to vest in the Indian Legislature responsibility for controlling defence during the present period of transition. If constitutional responsibility were conferred, three members held, actual responsibility could not simultaneously be transferred.

It was the view of the majority that during the transition period the Governor-General should be responsible for defence, that he should be assisted by a minister of his own choice, responsible to him and not to the Legislature.

SASKATCHEWAN CALLED ON TO AID BIG LOAN

Canadian Press

Regina, Nov. 26.—Declaring Saskatchewan would do its share in supporting the National Service Loan, Premier Anderson issued a statement here yesterday evening.

"It might well be thought," said Premier Anderson, "that owing to the discouraging conditions resulting from crop failures, our people would be soiled of all determination to win and would lose faith in their country. This is not so, however. The same grim and resolute determination that won the prairies for civilization is here in Saskatchewan still and will make out of these stumbling blocks to progress stepping stones to that high place in the comity of nations that is Canada's heritage."

"Saskatchewan, temporarily handicapped as she is, will do her part in support of the National Service Loan. We must all of us regard our surplus wealth as a national trust to be administered for the good of the community. There is no better way than by investing in this loan."

BONES AND OLD PISTOL FOUND

Canadian Press

Winchester, Ont., Nov. 26.—In a deep stone-lined pit, a pile of human bones and an ancient pistol, believed to be more than a century old, were discovered on the farm of Mahlon Hies, near Winchester.

Removing a pile of stone, Hies found beneath it a hole seven feet deep and three feet square. It is completely walled in with stone. The bones were found in such a position that it is believed a body was lowered into the shaft and left there standing erect.

The pistol was badly corroded, but some of the parts, after oil had been applied, were still movable.

French Now Plan Naval Replacements

Associated Press

Paris, Nov. 26.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday afternoon approved a report recommending construction during 1932-33 of four second class cruisers, one destroyer and one torpedo boat in limited categories, one hydrographic cruiser and one river gunboat in the unlimited category.

These are all replacements of obsolete units. Former Minister of Marine Dandieu said the total tonnage was 3,000 less than the average yearly construction since 1922.

New York, Nov. 26.—In Central Park yesterday, according to an estimate by Irving Billig, "rodent control specialist," there were at least 30,000 fewer live rats than there were yesterday. With 40,000 little pieces of meat soaked in a solution that is supposed to be harmless to human beings and domestic animals but absolutely fatal to rats Billig and thirty-five assistants drawn from the ranks of the unemployed started a war on the Central Park rats yesterday.

Communist Candidate Heard In Winnipeg

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—It is getting tougher and tougher for Communists in Canada, Jacob Penner, Communist candidate for mayor here, told an audience yesterday evening. He was speaking in a public school.

There is not a single town in the east where a meeting of this nature is possible," he said, "not in a public place or private hall. And in the west, particularly in Moose Jaw, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver, even the unemployed are not allowed to assemble."

Winnipeg is still an exception where the Communists can pour out their ideas to their hearts' content," he conceded. "But how long will this last?"

Tuesday evening Penner spoke from the same platform as four other mayoral candidates. They are Mayor Ralph H. Webb, T. R. Deacon, Colin McPhail and Theodore Hunt.

To-morrow will be polling day.

STRANGE REASONING

WHICH IS BETTER FOR THE ECONOMIC WELFARE OF CANADA, A TOTAL TRADE FOR A YEAR AMOUNTING TO A LITTLE MORE THAN $1,513,000,000 WITH AN UNFAVORABLE BALANCE OF APPROXIMATELY $215,000,000, OR A TOTAL TRADE OF ABOUT $962,000,000 AND AN ADVERSE BALANCE OF A LITTLE LESS THAN $118,000,000?

This is not intended as a conundrum. We are merely submitting the question because certain newspapers friendly to the government at Ottawa are elated over the fact that the difference between the value of our exports and imports for the year ending with last September was less than it was for the year ending with the September of 1930. The hardheaded economist, of course, will probably take all the joy out of this commercial philosophy by gently hinting that it cost Canada about $552,000,000 in trade to bring about this reduction in the balance against her.

The morning paper explains that "this country, under the Bennett tariff, is engaged on the task of converting its adverse balance of trade into a favorable one," and contends that it is a problem "the solution of which is necessary in the process of bringing about a new era of prosperity." We are told that "under the late Liberal regime the conditions were created which developed an adverse trade balance." As the figures show, the adverse balance has been reduced; but will the average Canadian businessman look forward with joy to a balanced trading account with the rest of the world if the ratio of cost is to be the same as it has been in the last twelve months?

Newspapers supporting the government delight in blaming the King administration for practically everything but the weather, the poor crop, and the state of affairs in the world generally. But when The Colonist solemnly declares that conditions which developed during the Liberal regime at Ottawa were responsible for the adverse trade balance that now exists, it merely asks to be reminded that the official statistics contained in the Canada Year Book completely disprove the argument. If it will refer to that publication it will discover that when the Conservative government left office in 1921 there was an adverse trade balance of approximately $30,000,000; but in no year between then and 1930 did Canada import more than she exported. Take, for example, the following fiscal years:

	Imports	Exports
1926	$ 927,000,000	$1,328,000,000
1927	1,034,000,000	1,267,000,000
1928	1,109,000,000	1,250,000,000
1929	1,286,000,000	1,388,000,000

It is quite true that in the fiscal year ending with March 31, 1930, the balance against Canada was $104,000,000; but the total trade of the country in that period amounted to nearly $2,400,000,000!

The impartial observer who studies the figures we have quoted above, and compares them with the figures representing the total trade of the country for the year ending with last September, will come to the conclusion that the policies now in operation at Ottawa, while bridging the gulf between the value of imports and exports, are effectively reducing the demand for labor and other services which a trade with twice as much value would require to be performed. We can guess what answer Mr. Beatty or Sir Henry Thornton would give to the question we ask in the first paragraph of this article. The bigger the national turnover, of course, the bigger the railway car-loadings.

Beyond all this, however, how many are there in the Dominion who would not gladly exchange present conditions, with their heavy taxation, huge deficits and unexampled unemployment, for those which existed when the Liberals were in power at Ottawa?

HE WAS RIGHT

THE REFERENCE MADE IN THESE columns the other day to a new book, "Can Governments Cure Unemployment?" of which Sir Norman Angell is a co-author with Mr. Harold Wright, calls to mind several significant paragraphs in Angell's "The Great Illusion" which, dubbed by many as ridiculous when they were written in 1911, might well have been written in 1931.

It will be remembered that when "The Great Illusion" made its appearance the nerves of Europe were on edge, particularly the nerves of the big navy advocates in Great Britain and Germany, because of the persistent talk—not to mention a few "incidents"—of war between these two countries. There was the invasion scare, the verbal battle between Robert Balfour and A. G. Gardiner, one in the employ of Lord Northcliffe and the other the editor of The London Daily News.

Let us see how Sir Norman Angell's "ridiculous" reasoning fits in with present conditions. He said twenty years ago: "We might conquer Germany to-morrow, and we should find that we could not, because of the fact, make a single Englishman a shilling's worth the richer in consequence, the war indemnity notwithstanding." We, in 1931, may insert here: "Beating" Germany has increased Britain's national debt from $678,000,000 to $7,584,000,000. And as for the "indemnity notwithstanding," most of the money with which Germany has been paying reparations has come from British, French and United States banks.

We read a little further in "The Great Illusion": "How has it become impossible for one nation to take by conquest the wealth of another for the benefit of the people of the conqueror? How is it that we are confronted by the absurdity (which the facts of our own empire go to prove) of the conquering people being able to exact from conquered territory rather less than more advantage than it was able to do before the conquest took place?"

We get this answer: "The cause of this profound change, largely the work of the last thirty years, is due mainly to the complex financial interdependence of the capitals of the world, a condition in which disturbance in New York involves financial and commercial disturbance in London, and if sufficiently grave, compels financiers of London to co-operate with those of New York to put an end to the crisis, not as a matter of altruism, but as a matter of commercial self-protection. The complexity of modern finance makes New York dependent upon London, London upon Paris, Paris upon Berlin, to a greater degree than has ever yet been the case in history."

All there is to say about this is that the statesmen of Europe and the United States recently have been doing a good deal of flitting between capital and capital, across the Atlantic and the English Channel—"not as a matter of altruism, but as a matter of commercial self-protection."

SILVER

WITH SILVER AND ITS VALUE AT present of more than passing interest, it is interesting to recall that Canada ranks third among the silver producing countries of the world. The four largest producers of silver are Mexico, the United States, Canada and Peru in the order named. Together they supply over eighty per cent of the world's total silver production. In 1930 Canadian production was 26,443,823 fine ounces. The latest comparative figures available are for 1929, when the production of the Dominion was 23,143,261 ounces. In that year Mexico led with an output of 108,700,372 fine ounces. The United States came second with 61,233,321 ounces, and Peru fourth with 21,495,169 fine ounces. The world's production of silver in that year was 261,715,021 ounces.

Silver mining in Canada is not a distinct industry as silver generally occurs with other metals. The two main branches of the industry are silver-cobalt mining, which is confined to Ontario, and the silver-lead-zinc mining industry, which operates in Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, British Columbia and in the Yukon and Northwest Territories. British Columbia led among the Canadian provinces in the production of silver in 1930. The output of that province was 11,825,930 fine ounces, while Ontario came second with 10,205,683 ounces. The Yukon supplied 3,746,326 fine ounces and Quebec came fourth with 571,164 ounces. There was also the production of a little less than 100,000 ounces from Manitoba and a small production from Nova Scotia.

British Columbia is the leading center of the silver-lead-zinc mining industry. In 1930 this province, besides producing forty-five per cent of Canada's silver, was the origin of ninety-seven per cent of the lead and ninety-three per cent of the zinc of the Dominion. The Sullivan mine, noted the world over for its output of lead and zinc, is the largest individual silver producing mine in Canada. The largest operations in this industry are carried on by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company in the district about Trail. This company in 1930 introduced a new method of recovering zinc and lead, known as "slag-fuming." Electrolytic zinc is produced by this company and also by the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company at Flin-Flon, Manitoba. Electrolytic cadmium is produced in the refining of zinc at the Trail plant.

Besides holding third place among the world producers of silver in 1930, Canada ranked fourth among those producing lead and fourth in the smelter output of zinc. Canada and Central Africa produce about equal amounts of cobalt. Among the metals and minerals produced in Canada silver held eighth place in 1930. Lead held sixth and zinc ninth in point of value.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS
The Sherbrooke Tribune

It is with good reason that the district of the Eastern Townships is widely considered one of the most important centres of stock-raising. The progress which has been displayed in this corner of the province in agriculture and horticulture, and still more in the raising of dairy cattle, has been the cause of many laudatory comments.

LARGEST ELEPHANT IN CAPTIVITY DEAD
The Toronto Telegram

Khartoum, the largest elephant in captivity, died at the New York Zoological Park, the Bronx, due to heart disease, brought on by inactive life and over-feeding.

Khartoum was only twenty-nine years old. He was caught in the Sudan as a baby and brought to New York at the age of three when only four feet three inches tall. Khartoum had grown to a height of ten feet, eight and three-quarter inches, lacking but one-quarter of an inch of Jumbo, the largest elephant ever known, and which was killed by a locomotive at St. Thomas, Ont. Khartoum was never weighed, but Dr. W. Reid, director of the New York Zoological Park, estimated his weight at 7,000 pounds.

"Khartoum had been in the zoo for twenty-six years, which is longer than the average elephant lasts in captivity," said Dr. Blair. "The life of an elephant under normal conditions is about the same as that of a man. The British Army Service in India has studied the question of the age of elephants very closely. There have been a few cases of elephants passing a hundred years, just as a human being does occasionally." Khartoum originally had a good disposition, but in time became violent and fierce. During the last four years no keeper had been allowed to enter the corral with him. In spite of his animosity towards the human race and apparently towards other animals, Khartoum was friendly and hospitable towards the robins which would build their nests every spring within his reach. The elephant would stand for minutes at a time gazing at the birds building their nests, and later at their small families. He would occasionally raise his trunk and touch the tip gently to the nest, but would never disturb the birds.

Loose Ends

Sordid dollars and anti-worth gentlemen down the street—poor ignorant heathen—and fences on the hillside.

By H. B. W.

WHAT I LIKE about this little bit of England on the shores of the Pacific, is the independence of its views. Its ideas are always its own—an ownership which, I sometimes suspect, no other community would dispute. I mean, it is not the shores so much as the bora of the Pacific which are its greatest charm. Thus, for example, I find a great many worthy gentlemen disputing among themselves with language far from pacific about disarmament. The columns of another newspaper down the street have been quite full of this notable argument of late. Fortunately, I don't know anything about armaments or warfare, so I shall not offend the intelligence of these worthy gentlemen by commenting thereon. But I have a vague idea of money. I sometimes pay my bills. And armament in this degenerate world has become, like everything else, purely a matter of sordid dollars and cents. It seems too bad that these finer things should be fouled in this way, but, as I have always contended, there is no poetry, no soul left in this civilization, nor much of anything else for that matter.

WHEN YOU COME to look at the sordid dollars and cents of disarmament, you find a most regrettable result. To start with, if the British Empire is to go in for competitive armaments, as many worthy gentlemen have been advocating among the bora of the Pacific, then, of course, the Dominions will have to pay their share. We can't expect the British taxpayers to protect us indefinitely if the cost is to continue going up. The British taxpayers are paying about twice as much per capita for their navy as the United States taxpayers are paying for theirs, and so far as I can judge, the British taxpayers feel they have ample taxation for their own comfort already. Therefore, we Dominions would have to look after ourselves, if armaments were unrestricted.

IN CANADA, OF COURSE, there is only one immediate possible enemy, the United States. There would be no use arming against the United States, of course, unless we did it in a big way. There would be no use us building one fort on the border to ten American forts, or marshalling one Canadian soldier to ten American soldiers. We would have to match fort for fort, soldier for soldier. We would have to fortify our boundary as France has fortified hers. Otherwise it would be of no use fortifying at all. The minimum cost of doing this job, would be about a billion dollars a year, according to European standards. Then, of course, we would need a navy to protect our coast. We have lots of coast to protect, more than the United States, so we would need a little larger navy. According to American, British and Japanese standard, we would need a navy costing perhaps $350,000,000 a year. Thus, I estimate the cost of a reasonable armament at $1,350,000,000 a year.

THAT WOULD BE just three times the total cost of our federal government at present and more than half annually of our entire war debt. It would be a simple matter to finance it. It would be necessary only to spend ninety times as much on armament as we spend now, to pass one order-in-council quadrupling all existing federal levies. We should then spend twice as much as the entire British Empire now spends on defence. It is the simplest thing in the world. I cannot understand why the federal government hasn't done it long ago. Especially after all the good advice on the subject it is receiving from the bora of the Pacific.

THE PRESENT Chinese boycott of Japanese goods, even including Japanese oranges in the Chinese stores here, reveals the inferiority of the Oriental to the Occidental mind. Can you imagine us adopting a boycott of foreign goods for any reason whatever? The poor heathen Chinese is willing to forego his profit on the sale of Japanese oranges and let the white merchant make it, just because he doesn't want to help the Japanese. But we show more intelligence. Why, our Canadian housewives won't insist on Canadian or British Empire goods even to help business and keep their husbands in a job. They are too intelligent for that sort of thing. They leave it to the poor Chin.

WHEN THE GOING gets too hard and this column too dull even for me, and I, through long practice, can stand a lot—at such times I take my bat and a walking stick which weighs some twenty-five pounds, and go for a walk through this countryside. For such occasions, in search of an idea, I have an inviolable walk. It leads down a country road—a foot deep in mud this weather—and along a rolling hillside above a broad valley. Walking along that hillside you can forget all your troubles. You can even forget and forgive the readers of this column.

FROM THAT hillside you can look clear across the Straits of Puce and see the Olympics towering up against the rolling green of George Pudding's upper pasture as if nothing lay between the pasture and the mountains but space. You can see the whole sweep of the Sooke Hills from the water up to the square top of Salt Spring Island and in the valley below a great checkerboard of brown, newly-ploughed fields, green pastures, stretches of timber, little farmhouses and big clumsy barns. At this time of the year and this time of the day, when the sun is just setting behind the Sooke hills, there is a kind of pink glow over the whole valley and the distant hills beyond. Even Pudding's cows, grazing in the upper pasture, seem tinged with it and the naked oak trees have a faint, thin edging of light along their branches.

WELL, WHAT I was going to tell you was that when I went walking along my favorite route to-day, with my cane weighing twenty-five pounds and my heart much heavier, I met a man who was fencing the hillside. Yes, a man was fencing the hillside where I have walked these many years and thought my very best thoughts, many of them much too good ever to get into this column. The audacity of the man shook me so much that I could not even make an appropriate protest. I realize that I should have denounced him with all my eloquence and perhaps with my twenty-five-pound cane. I should have told him that while the institution of private property still persisted in this country and that, no doubt, he owned the hillside, still, surely the intellectual health of its great thinkers should be protected, and mine was dependent absolutely on my special walk above the valley.

I SHOULD HAVE told him that, but I merely said, idiotically—since he was digging holes and putting posts in them—I said: "Fencing, eh?" "Looks like it," said he coldly (he was a brutal fellow with an evil eye, the kind of fellow you would expect to be flogging hillside above the magic valley-land below). Then he added: "Goin' to use it for chickens. Wot's the good of land if you can't use it for something useful?" I should have told him that this land had provided

The Victoria Daily Times
November 26, 1906
(From the Times Files)

On Saturday evening the Bishop's Palace, on Yates Street, the property of the Roman Catholic Church, was sold for the sum of $40,000. Plans are being prepared by Hopper and Watkins for another archiepiscopal palace to be erected immediately on View Street, at the rear of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

The D.G.S. Quadra left this morning for Ladysmith, where she will coal afterwards returning to this port to load machinery for the construction of a new gas buoy at Pachena Point, which will do duty until the new lighthouse is completed.

Captain J. W. Troup, returned from Seattle on Sunday where he went some days ago on business connected with the establishment by the C.P.R. company of a winter service between Victoria and Seattle. Asked this morning with regard to the plans which have been made, the captain stated that the matter of a schedule has not yet been arranged, but the company expected to put the Princess Beatrice on the route on December 15.

Captain S. Balcom, manager of the Pacific Steam Whaling Company, who has been in the east for a number of weeks, is expected home on Wednesday or Thursday next.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Light or moderate northerly

THE LATE CAPT. ED O'DONOGHUE

(A Tribute From an Old Friend)

I've lost a friend, (and such a friend)
So full of wit and human kindness;
His every nerve had gladly bent
To turn to laugh another's blindness.
He had an open mind to greet
A new born truth; the higher reason
That ran with eager steps to meet
His duty—in and out of season.

I've strolled with him beneath the stars;
Gazing into vast stellar spaces;
Discussed the strange, mysterious bars,
That keep poor mortals in their places.
About, I've met him at the dawn,
And watched the sun rise in its glory;
While over dewdrops on the lawn
Sang in its praise: "retold its story."

But, most I've loved to sit, whilst he Would talk, and let me sit and listen,
About the better times to be.
(And here sometimes a word would gladden
In his wise eyes, so full of light,
Never yet dimmed in school or college)
When truth and justice: "honor bright,"
Should travel hand-in-hand with knowledge.

My friend has gone, and left me lone,
Imperished beyond my telling;
And my heart seems as cold as stone,
Sad salt tears to my eyes are welling.
Farewell, old friend; wherever it be
That earth has risen, earth's vain shame scorning.

I trust that you rejoice to see
A brighter sun: a rosier morning.

—David Grievie Tuckwell,
Victoria, B.C., November 25, 1931.

"Y" RECEIVING FINE SUPPORT

Public of Canada Rallying to Assist Association in Valuable Work
A. S. McAllister, General Secretary For Y.M.C.A. Railroad
Work Here

In spite of depressed business conditions, every drive conducted by the Y.M.C.A. throughout Canada this fall has "gone over the top," according to A. S. McAllister, national secretary of the Y.M.C.A. In charge of work on both Canadian railroads, who was here yesterday to confer with members of the local association staff.

The value of the Y.M.C.A. in helping to build up the morale of the public, particularly unemployed members, is being recognized all over the Dominion and citizens are subscribing to it as one of the really worth while movements of to-day. Particularly in Lethbridge, where financial conditions are at a low ebb, the faith of the public has been renewed in the association's work. This has been indicated in the reorganization of the Y.M.C.A. there after several years of inactivity. H. S. Sneyd, former foreign secretary in Japan for the association, and one of the best-known Y.M.C.A. workers in Canada, has been placed in charge of the organization work in that community, Mr. McAllister stated.

In Moose Jaw, London, Ontario, Regina and many other centres the association has been given fine support.

BUILD UP MORALE
Questioned on the association's work for the unemployed, Mr. McAllister stated the Y.M.C.A. was concentrating on assisting the jobless members of the movement with organized activities which kept them busy and prevented them from losing their morale. Work was also being done with other agencies all over the Dominion to assist the workless in a concrete way.

In the spiritual and character-building field the association was working on a programme adopted at the August world conference of Y.M.C.A.'s in Toronto, when the ideals were incorporated in the following objective:

"We pledge ourselves and call upon the youth of all nations to live and speak and strive, both individually and corporately, as to help make the law of love, revealed in the life and teachings of Jesus, supreme in all human affairs."

CARRYING ON FOREIGN WORK
When questioned on foreign work, Mr. McAllister admitted the association was feeling the pinch of the times, but was carrying on to the best of its ability.

Mr. McAllister was known to many British Columbians as the general secretary of the Vancouver association up to 1925, when he joined the national staff. He has been in the movement for over thirty-three years.

While here he went into administrative and programme matters with the Victoria staff and left yesterday evening on his way back to general headquarters.

V. L. GRANVILLE GIVES ADDRESS TO STUDENTS

Before a capacity audience at the Victoria school of Expression Tuesday evening V. L. Granville, noted actor, gave an inspiring talk to students and friends. He illustrated his remarks with selections from Kipling, Dickens and Shakespeare and was listened to with close attention and interest. The fact that in addition to marvelous gifts of characterization Mr. Granville possesses that rarest of all accomplishments, a fine speaking voice, developed into full richness and beauty, was fully appreciated by his hearers.

At Mr. Granville's request some of the students gave a short, entirely unrehearsed, programme. Those taking part were Jack Riddell, William McPhail, Marian Hall, Naomi Taylor, Eileen Davis and Clemency Ord. Mr. Granville commented upon the spontaneous charm of each student and the entire lack of artificiality shown.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Granville was proposed by William Mackay, and seconded by J. M. Campbell.

DU PONT DO NOT CONTROL DUNLOP

Report Emanating From East
Several Days Ago Denied By
Arthur B. Purvis

Arthur B. Purvis of Toronto, president and managing director of Canadian Industries Ltd., states there is no truth to the report emanating from New York that the du Pont Company had purchased control of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Co. Limited of Canada. The fact is that the common stock of that company is held somewhat less than two-thirds by the Dunlop Rubber Company of London, England, and somewhat over one-third by Canadian Industries Ltd. Nor is there any suggestion or intention of such a purchase.

Mr. Purvis also called attention to the fact that the same report was quite incorrect in stating that the du Pont Company entirely owned the stock of Canadian Industries Limited. The great majority of the preferred stock of Canadian Industries Limited is held in Canada and the majority of the common stock—the only other issue outstanding—is held in the British Empire by Canadian and English stockholders. It is true that the du Pont Company holds stock in Canadian Industries Limited, through the medium of a Canadian company, Associated Securities of Canada, mentioned in the report in question, but this du Pont holding is a minority one.

Pimples and Blackheads Nearly Four Years. Cuticura Healed.

"My trouble began with blackheads and pimples appearing on my face. The pimples were hard, red and fairly large, and when I squeezed them they feasted and scaled over. I scratched them and this caused eruptions and also disfigured my face. The trouble lasted nearly four years."

"I read different advertisements for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some. I got relief at once, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Elsie Bertrand, 903 Maitland St., Peterboro, Ont.

SOCIAL, PERSONAL AND HOME INTERESTS

Gems of Peril

by HAZEL ROSS HAILEY

When she awoke next morning the hot Florida sun was streaming in her window and the telephone at her elbow was ringing madly. She glanced at her wrist watch showed that it was nearly ten o'clock.

"Aren't you ever coming down?" Louise's half-scooping tones reverberated in the telephone. "We go to ride along the Jungle Trail and up the coast for lunch. Hurry!"

"Don't wait for me," Mary told her coolly. "I can't go this time."

"Oh, but—" Quite evidently the other was not prepared for refusal. She did not know what to say next. She could not command. Yet she knew quite well that so far Bruce had managed to thwart the girl's effort to be alone.

She must have turned to Bruce for Mary heard a low-voiced colloquy. Then Bruce spoke, coaxingly: "Surely you're not going to spend this gorgeous day in bed? Come along! Dad's anxious to get started!"

"Not I," Mary rejoined unflustered. "Amuse yourselves as you please. I have an appointment with the hair-dresser and some books to read. I'll just stay here and loaf."

"As you please," Bruce replied coldly and rang off.

"Now," thought Mary, provoked, "he'll be sure to think I'm up to mischief, and follow me!"

Cool second thought, however, taught her it was unlikely Bruce would forego his day's outing because of any serious interest in her activities. Bruce was merely trying to make himself obnoxious, so that she would find life in the Jupiter household unbearable and leave.

It was pleasant to go down to breakfast alone. The dining-room was cool and dark and blessedly empty. Early bathers had breakfasted and gone. And it was too early for lunch. Apparently she was the only layabouts in the hotel.

Soothing, just to be alone, not to be surrounded by people one loathed, or feared, or despised, just pitied. Delightful to relax, not to have to keep up the complex game of pretence that she had been playing, sleeping and waking, for so many tense, unhappy days of late. For the time being, she was freed of the ache for Dirk, even. Peace, like a narcotic, numbed all her senses temporarily.

The low hum of distant electric fans, the soft-footed, low-voiced waiters, the hushed room, so silent that her own thoughts seemed to echo in her ears, it was like the lulling of cool waters on her tired spirit. Suddenly she realized that she was tired.

She had been tired for weeks. She resolved to get this business over as soon as possible and go away where she need not even think.

Someone stood in the doorway, looking about. She looked up and saw him wave away the waiter and come toward her. Her faint annoyance at the entrance of another diner into her enchanted solitude changed to pleased surprise when she saw it was George Bowen.

"Aren't you taking a risk in coming here?" she asked. It would not be well if they were seen together, but she did not seem to worry.

"Safe as a church," he returned. "I met your gang starting out for some where in a big Lorimer car."

Mary almost dropped her fork. "Lorimer?"

Bowen smiled in surprise. "Sure! Big Lorimer limousine. Why, you don't think—"

"Nothing," Mary answered. "It's probably a private taxi, and I don't suppose J.J. noticed what make of car it was. It just reminded me of something Dirk told me."

She repeated to him what had seemed so suspicious to Dirk—that the manufacturer of Jupiter motor cars should buy a Lorimer car and keep it in hiding. At least, not even the members of his household knew that he had it.

Bowen frowned over that for a few minutes.

"By George," he exclaimed, "I never would have thought of that! Maybe the old boy's slyer than we think. He shook his head, discarding the suspicion. "No, I don't believe it."

"Neither do I," Mary agreed, relieved to have someone back up her confidence in Jupiter.

"Keep it in mind, though," Bowen advised, as one who believed in thoroughness and efficiency. "Now, what's on the books for to-day?"

"Just waiting for to-night, mostly," Mary said shivering. "I must find out what kind of costumes will be de rigueur at the party and find myself one. And here's something else—"

Gone was her peaceful interlude, as last night's fresh worry recurred to mind. She told Bowen of seeing De Loma and the Countess Louise in close animated conversation in the lobby, when the latter was supposed to be in bed with a severe headache.

"You don't suppose she knows this so-called pleasure trip is really a hunt for the fly?" You don't suppose she's told him?

Bowen's usually placid brow took on some real corrugations. He was obviously more worried than he would admit.

"Well," I know a quick way to find out," he said, and got up. Presently he returned with the information. "He's checked out. Last night—late."

And sat down heavily. Despair took him in hand for a moment, and shook him as a cat shakes a rat.

"My God," he moaned, "you don't suppose that she-cat of Bruce's has been the show away? Woman or not, I'll poke her in the nose, if she has! I swear I will! I've followed that bird this far, but this is no round-the-world cruise!"

He writhed silently for a minute.

"No, I'll tell you what it is," he said, presently. "He had to get out anyway. This is no free flop-house and he's down to his last thin dime. Probably just saying goodbye—talking good-bye to a bit. Didn't you say he and the countess were pretty thick once upon a time?" he added hopefully.

"There's something between them," Mary assured him. "He's probably been her lover at some time or other. Yes, it might have been that—only that."

She tried to believe herself. "Well, then I suppose my date for to-night is canceled. It was hard to say whether disappointment or relief was her principal reaction to this thought."

"But he said it so firmly—I'll be there!" As if he'd swim rivers and climb mountains and that sort of thing, you know.

"Probably just his line, meant to impress you," Bowen said. "Still, I'll bet he shows up. The necklace is his best saying good-bye—talking good-bye to a bit. Didn't you say he and the countess were pretty thick once upon a time?"

A bellboy insinuated himself into the conversation at this point, with a message from the room clerk.

"The clerk says to tell you he was mistaken about the matter you just asked about," he told Bowen. "The man did check out of Parlor C but later he came over and paid his bill and took another room. It's No. 402 if you want to reach him, sir. Thank you, sir."

When the boy had departed, enlightenment rested on the faces of those whom he had just left.

"Looks like the girl friend staked him," Bowen mused. "Now, why would she do that? He must have been her Big Moment at some time or other. Or maybe, she had to do it to keep his mouth shut. Maybe anything. We don't need to worry about it. We'll know all about it one of these days."

He took a cigarette and pushed back his chair.

"Well, our time may be short. We'd better get busy. I want to buzz around and borrow that trick camera and get a picture of the counters if I can. If we can get some dirt on her maybe we can scare her with it, even if we don't use it any other way. How're you going to vote? It's the fly on board the Gypsy to-night. Have you any ideas?"

"None at all," Mary confessed. "I'm just trusting to luck to tell me what to do when the time comes. What I'm afraid of is that I won't get a chance to talk to Mr. Jupiter first. He's off now for the day and Bates with him."

What if we need extra men? Bates will be with me but there ought to be another secret service man at the affair whom De Loma doesn't know. He knows Bates, though of course he doesn't know he's a plainclothesman. I wonder...

Here the same bellboy hovered about again, finally injecting himself between the abstracted pair with a suave, "Are you Miss Harkness? Miss Mary Harkness?"

Startled, Mary assented. "Gentleman in the lobby to see you," the boy rattled off, relieved at having discharged his duty. He hurried off, to wait for her in the doorway.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

To many persons the stuffing of turkey and all kinds of poultry means quite as much as the bird itself. There is a special stuffing for each bird to bring out the finest flavor.

It's really an art to make a good poultry stuffing, for seasoning and texture are both essential. A taste for interesting combinations, a choice of seasonings, a blending of ingredients and the proper proportion of liquid must form the foundation for all stuffings.

Old-fashioned bread stuffing forms the basis for a number of other good fillings. By the addition of oysters, celery, sausage, mushrooms, chestnuts and onions, the cook can change the plain stuffing to suit her needs.

These stuffings, with the exception of onion, are suitable for any variety of fowl. Onion stuffing should not be used with turkey or chicken.

Turkey and chicken require a less highly flavored stuffing than any other kind of bird. Duck and goose are good with the highly flavored fruit stuffings as well as vegetable stuffings.

Crackers and rice sometimes take the place of bread and there is a potato stuffing frequently used with fowl.

The size of the bird naturally determines the amount of stuffing required, but it takes at least a whole loaf of bread for a medium sized fowl and up to two loaves will be needed for a turkey. The bread must be at least twenty-four hours old.

Since plain bread stuffing can be used more generally than any other stuffing, the rule for it follows.

PLAIN BREAD STUFFING
One loaf stale bread, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon pepper, one-half cup melted butter, one egg, hot water or milk.

The egg can be omitted, but if the stuffing is to be served cold as well as hot, an egg is an improvement.

Crumbs be coarsely, discarding crust. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add melted butter, tossing crumbs with a fork to mix thoroughly. Add egg well beaten and mix lightly with a fork. Add not more than one-half cup boiling water or hot milk and mix lightly. Cover and let stand five or ten minutes. If the dressing is not now as moist as wanted for serving, add a few tablespoons more hot liquid. Do not pack firmly in any bird, for the stuffing expands during roasting.

The numerous variations are as follows:
Celery stuffing: Add two cups of celery cooked until tender in as little water as possible.

Sausage stuffing: Omit butter and add one-half pound sausage meat cooked to a crisp brown after removing from casing.

Oyster stuffing: Add one pint of oysters, using oyster liquor for liquid and adding one tablespoon minced parsley.

Chestnut stuffing: Reduce bread crumbs to one-half the amount and add one quart of shelled, blanched and boiled chestnuts. The nuts can be added about it one of these days.

For mushroom stuffing: Add one and one-half cups chopped and sautéed mushrooms.

To-morrow's Menu
Breakfast: Baked winter pears, cereal, cream, cornmeal pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee.

Lunch: Beef broth with noodles, lettuce rolls filled with salad of cottage cheese and apple, graham muffins, milk, tea.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Celery Bush

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was sitting in his easy chair. His easy chair was sitting in the hollow stump bungalow. The hollow stump bungalow was sitting on the ground in Woodland near the Orange Ice Mountains.

"Why, Mr. Longears, I am surprised at you," squeaked Nurse Jane Fussy Wussy as she crept into the room to do some dusting with an old toothbrush tied on the end of her tail.

"Surprised at me?" spoke Uncle Wiggily in a slow and easy voice. "How come an' says what?" he murmured, making believe he was a rabbit from down south.

"I say I am surprised at you," went on the muskrat lady.

"Why?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

"Because you are not out in the crisp, fresh air looking for an adventure," answered Nurse Jane. "I thought you would be looking for an adventure long before this."

"Well, I suppose I ought to be," remarked Mr. Longears. "But, to tell you the truth, I feel so jolly comfortable and easy here that I hardly want to move. I suppose I am a bit lazy this afternoon."

"And I know why," said Nurse Jane. "Why?" asked Uncle Wiggily, slowly blinking his eyes and wrinkling his pink nose upside down for a change.

"You are so much Thanksgiving dinner that you don't feel like moving, do you?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Well," said Nurse Jane. "If you don't want to look for an adventure for your self, will you please look for one for me?"

Uncle Wiggily, much surprised, suddenly set up straight in his easy chair.

"What's that, Nurse Jane?" he asked, thinking he had not understood just what she said.

"I guess I'd better hop out before I sneeze my head off," he said with a laugh.

He was about to skip away from his bungalow when Nurse Jane called to him, saying:

"Where do you want me to take the celery?" asked Uncle Wiggily as he hopped back and took the bunch in his paws.

"I'll take it to Aunt Lettie, the goat lady," and she held up a big bunch of celery that she always hanging around at Thanksgiving.

of an adventure would you want, Nurse Jane?

"Oh, a good, jolly scary one," she answered. "So hop along and when you are out of the room I will have a chance to dust it. You are in my way as it is."

With that Miss Fussy Wussy began to frisk her tail about and the old toothbrush on the end knocked about the dust and some of the dust flew into Uncle Wiggily's pink nose and made him sneeze.

"I guess I'd better hop out before I sneeze my head off," he said with a laugh.

Horoscope

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1931

Astrologers read this as an "unimportant" day in planetary direction. It is not an auspicious date for beginning matters of big possibilities.

It is not a favorable day under which to assume any obligations and especially those symbolized by an engagement ring.

Under this sway decisions that affect future plans should be avoided. Routine matters should receive attention.

Women will find the planetary government more favorable for trivial interests than for larger ventures.

It is a good day for beauty culture and for choosing new gowns or selecting furniture or rugs.

While the rule continues the stars encourage entertaining and association with new acquaintances of opposite sex.

Through informal hostilities the best success may be secured at this time when the stars seem to frown on extravagance, which nevertheless will be widespread in the winter.

Again the stars stress the necessity of thorough preparation for any sort of work, for competition will eliminate all but the best expert.

Christmas shopping this year will be long drawn out and while the stars indicate a slowdown in selections they also indicate a good trade.

For the good of the soul after this year should be less practical and utilitarian than usual, astrologers declare.

"This is a time when presents should include the things that economy forbids the recipient to purchase for themselves, the stars set forth.

Persons whose birthdate is to have the anniversary of a year of much unusual interest. Letters from friends and relating to love are pressed. Losses of various personal possessions may be numerous. It is well to safeguard gloves and pieces of jewelry.

Children born on this day probably will find this sign of Saturnian usually see clearly and think quickly.

Those who have celebrated it as a birthday include Fanny Kemble, 1800, noted actress.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Is the Young Man Who Spends His Evenings Working Really Love His Fiancee?—Gagging the Bore

MISS DIX—Do you think business should always come before pleasure? I am engaged to a young man who is going into a new business, and he is so hard on it he doesn't have much leisure to give to me. It is generally even on Sundays when he comes to see me, and I get tired sitting for him. He tells me that on as he gets his new business started out he will have more to spend with me and, of course, for the good of our future that working. But some of my friends say that he is neglecting me and he will neglect me worse after we married. What is your opinion on matter?

SADIE.

Answer—Well, Sadie, if I were you, I would a lot rather trust my eye to a man who said it with stilling instead of handing me a talk for a couple of hours every evening. The real proof of a man's love for a woman is whether he is willing to work for her, not a much time he spends holding her hand.

Identify the young chap you are engaged to is a go-getter who is going to make good, and if you marry him you can look forward to having a husband who is proud and who will be a good provider, and in order to secure comfortable future it will pay you to make a few sacrifices of your sweet time and attention now. For success doesn't come easy. It has to be earned, and it is the young man who works while his companions are loafing and philandering and having a good time who gets there.

Run over the list of prominent men in your community and you will find that every one of them spent more time holding down his job when he was just getting on than he did in dangle around a girl, and this is a sign that he didn't love some girl either. Probably the reason he stuck to his work so closely was because he loved some girl so well that he was trying to get ahead so he could marry her and because he wanted to make life soft and easy for her.

I know that there are a lot of silly, morbid, neurotic women who are in of their husband's business and who talk about their husbands going to "old offices" as if they were keeping rendezvous with dizzy blondes. We hear a lot of twaddle talked about men neglecting their wives for their work.

But I have never heard of any of these jealous ladies who wanted to keep up their beautiful homes and their fine cars and good clothes and have a way of living that their husband's work brought in in order that they might have more of their husband's time.

Indeed, they want to eat their cake and have it, too. They want the things that husband's money buys them and the position it gives them at the same time they want him to concentrate his thoughts and interests in them and to put in plenty of time before his business. They want their husbands to make important conferences to go with them to a pink tea for them to go off with them on long vacations and to consider business daily as of far less importance than dancing attendance upon them.

It is a lovely theory and it would certainly be delightful if a man could like love with one hand and money with the other, so to speak. But, unfortunately, in this day of fierce competition a man has to give to his business about all the time and energy and thought that he has if he needs it. Wives should have enough sense to see this and be just tough not to quarrel with their bread and butter and jam.

So, Sadie, my advice to you is to quit listening to the people who tell you that your sweetheart is neglecting you. Instead of reproaching him for being in the kitchen, show him that you understand and appreciate how hard and brave a fight he is making for you. Get as interested in the success of the new business as he is and you will have a tie at will bind you together with hoops of steel, for there is no bond of iron stronger than a mutual interest.

DOROTHY DIX.

AB, MISS DIX—How can you deal with a girl who talks about herself all the time? She never listens to a word anybody else says, but just monopolizes the conversation. I have to live with a girl like that, and she is about to me to the insane asylum.

SANTA CLARA.

Answer—There is no cure for the monologist, and the female of the species is more deadly than the male. She is so obsessed with admiration of herself that she thinks the world is dying to hear all about everything she does and that she is actually giving everybody a treat when she spends her time talking about herself. She tells you about what she eats, about what she wears, about her clothes, her beaux, what she said to this and what he said to her. You can't talk her down and the only thing you can do is to avoid her, which most people do.

There should be an open season in which it is permissible to kill such a creature or at least gag them, but we have a long way to go yet before we attain to a perfect civilization.

Uncle Ray's Corner

A Huge Temple of Long Ago

he possessed all the power which formerly had been given to the god Ra.

Amen-Ra was called "the father of the gods, the maker of men, the creator of cattle, the lord of all being."

He was supposed to rule over the sun and to take it across the sky each day.

Ancient Egyptians declared that Amen or Amen-Ra lived inside the great temple. There was plenty of room for him there.

When the Nile rises each year, the waters flow to the base of the Temple of Amen. This process, going on for thousands of years, has served to eat into the sandstone walls of the temple and to cause them to fall. Efforts have been made in recent years to restore some of the destroyed parts, but Amen-Ra does not have a fitting home to live in.

MAY BUILD IN ISLAND FOREST

McNeill Swasey, Los Angeles Architect, Considers Erecting House at Sproat Lake

Says It Is One of the Most Beautiful Spots He Has Ever Visited

So impressed is McNeill Swasey of Los Angeles with Sproat Lake that he intends to return next year and may decide to build a bungalow there. Mr. Swasey is a well-known architect of southern California, who motored here with Mrs. Swasey to enjoy an outing on Vancouver Island.

He previously knew nothing about the fishing resort on the island apart from the tip he had received from friends to visit Sproat Lake. He returned to the Empress Hotel Tuesday evening after spending a couple of weeks up the island and said he was delighted with the country.

"It is one of the most beautiful spots we have ever visited," he said. "I am coming back and may possibly build a place of my own somewhere up there."

It snowed the first day Mr. Swasey arrived at Sproat Lake and rained the second, but during the remainder of his outing it was bright and clear. Both he and Mrs. Swasey had the satisfaction of landing a number of steelheads and they also shot some ducks.

"It was great," he said. "Practical forest full of wild life and lake and streams crowded with fish."

Mr. and Mrs. Swasey expect to leave Victoria to-day for Vancouver and may sail for home by a vessel of the Liberal Line. They had planned to sail by the Oregon, but found that she was away to sea when they emerged from the forest.

OBOE SOLOIST ENGAGED HERE

Featured Seattle Symphony Player to Appear With Victoria Philharmonic Society

Arrangements are nearing completion for the initial performance to be given by the Victoria Philharmonic Society on Tuesday, December 1, at the Royal Victoria Theatre. In order to make even more sure the success of the evening the services of George Tanser, oboe soloist, have been secured. Mr. Tanser won a tremendous ovation on his appearance in Victoria with the Seattle Symphony Orchestra recently and his engagement will be a great addition to the wood-wind section of the Victoria orchestra.

The Victoria Philharmonic Society is composed of sixty Victoria musicians under the able direction of Alfred Prescott. Upon the reception of the initial programme, the society will depend whether or not this is to be the first of a series of such entertainments. The concert will be under the patronage of the Premier and Mrs. Tolmie and Mayor Anson.

OPERA FEAST COMING SOON

English Company to Present "Merrie England" and "Gems of Opera" at Royal

The English Light Opera Company, direct from London, will open at the Royal Victoria Theatre, commencing Monday, December 7, and Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, with a matinee on Wednesday will present the famous Sir Edward German opera, "Merrie England." This famous English opera is written around the period of Queen Elizabeth's reign, the central theme being the romance of Sir Walter Raleigh and Bessie Throckmorton, the difficulties they encountered when the Queen frowned on their love affair and separated them for several months.

The story is a colorful one, and Sir Edward German, the eminent English composer has provided one of the richest musical scores heard here, while the cast of principals includes the names of many of London's famous stars. This production is under the direction of one of England's best-known conductors, Henry Jaxon, who came to Canada with the Metropolitan company to act as chief adjudicator at the music contest at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

On Friday and Saturday, with a matinee on Saturday, December 11 and 12, this company will also present "Gems of Opera," which are famous to all music lovers, namely, the quartette from "Rigoletto," the entire opera "Cavalleria Rusticana" and the famous garden scene from "Faust." Music lovers of Canada are now given the opportunity which they have been long looking for—a revival of light opera.

Harry D. Wright

Third Vice-President and new Manager for Canada for Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Mr. Wright, who succeeds Henry E. North, removed to New York, has been with the Metropolitan Life since 1898 and for the past fourteen years has been a Superintendent of Agencies.

COUNCIL OFFER

IS REFUSED BY WELFARE GROUP

Saanich Welfare Association Terminates Affiliation With Direct Relief Distribution

Mrs. W. J. Lynn Resigns as Secretary-treasurer; Many Families Aided

The Saanich Welfare Association yesterday terminated its association with administration of direct relief in Saanich. A delegation from the Saanich council met the executive at the Health Centre and offered to extend the limited powers previously vested in the Welfare Association and to transfer to the association's officers full authority to issue direct relief vouchers.

For the two months the limited operation had been in effect little work was involved, the municipality having been able to give steady work to all applicants until recently. Distribution of direct relief was admitted to be expected to develop into an important and onerous duty during the winter months.

The council delegation included Reeve Crouch and Councillors D. Hoare, L. Hagan and H. D. Coton, with R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk. They explained that the extended authority was tendered to reduce overlapping by investigators, the Welfare Association having records of families needing aid.

Prior to declining the enhanced authority the executive of the Welfare Association discussed the offer at length. It was finally decided that the responsibility for distribution of direct relief was a matter which should be shouldered by the municipal authorities, not transferable to an auxiliary unofficial group of voluntary workers.

The direct relief distribution, and severed its association with official municipal aid to needy

SECRETARY RESIGNS

"White" Russians Plot With Japanese In Manchuria

Associated Press

Moscow, Nov. 26.—Moscow newspaper-to-day published dispatches from Peking saying reports from Berlin told of the preliminary examination of a "White" Russian named the Ushakoff which, it was revealed, the Japanese had offered to support the "White" Russians with arms or raids in Soviet territory.

The investigation, it was said, was conducted by Chinese authorities at the railway station at Manchuria. The raids were to include the Amur River valley.

Ushakoff had been to the Japanese military mission at Harbin, the dispatches said documents in his possession showed. Eight of the White Russians were said to have been former Russian royalists.

The Workers' Gazette published an editorial in which it charged the Japanese were attempting to use the "Whites" to attack the Chinese Eastern Railway.

WILDE COMEDY IS ENJOYABLE

"The Importance of Being Earnest" Well Done By St. Paul's Players

Brilliant Dialogue With High Society Setting; Will Be Repeated To-night

One of Victoria's most ambitious amateur theatrical groups, the St. Paul's Players, of Esquimalt, made another of its periodical bows to a local audience at the Crystal Garden yesterday evening and delighted with a performance of Oscar Wilde's comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

A second performance will be given at 8 o'clock to-night.

The play, which is somewhat obvious in plot, is a satire on the work of a man who liked to dig at high society wittily and politely. He achieves this end by making the actions and problems of his high society characters seem trivial, and by putting into their mouths observations which are laughable in their chainment. The caricaturing continues through three acts, but the dialogue alone is sufficient to carry the play.

CANT DOES WELL

There was very little inconsistency in the performance. The cues were well taken, the average level of acting surprisingly high and the work of several of the cast outstandingly good.

Stephen B. Lloyd, as Algernon; Miss M. C. Thompson, as Miss Prism; a Russian private tutor; Miss Ellen Wilson, as Cecily; Miss Vera Sharland, as Hon. Gwendolen, and Herbert E.

Pool Guarantee Costs Saskatchewan $13,305,000

Regina, Nov. 26.—Liability of the government of Saskatchewan on account of guarantees of advances received by the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool from chartered banks is announced as $13,305,000, by Hon. M. A. MacPherson, K.C., provincial treasurer.

"LET DOLLARS SERVE CANADA" IS LOAN SLOGAN

Raising $150,000,000 One of Country's Most Formidable Financial Undertakings

"Let your dollars serve Canada" is the slogan for the appeal which the Dominion Government has launched to raise $150,000,000 "to promote the economic and financial welfare of Canada," as it is aptly put in the official circular containing details of the 1931 National Service Loan.

The offering of this considerable amount of bonds to investors is one of the most important financial undertakings this country has ever witnessed, certainly since the war days when Victory bonds were offered in large numbers and eagerly subscribed to save the country from foreign aggression.

Now the necessity has arisen of saving the country from economic consequences of an extraordinary character, and that the public will respond with the same promptness is unquestioned as when Canada stood on the verge of a catastrophe in the darkest days of the Great War.

Owing to world-wide conditions, economic problems are confronting Canada, and the public is asked to respond with the same promptness and in the same measure as when Canada faced the darkest days of the Great War. This is why the present appeal for funds is being made.

One of the important features of this loan is that the public will receive a little more than 5 per cent on their investment. The bonds are being issued to mature at the end of five years, according to the wishes of investors.

The five-year bonds are priced at 98, and the ten-year maturity at 96. Both classes can be obtained in denominations of $500 and $1,000, but the five-year issue can also be obtained in $100 lots, which will appeal to people of modest means.

The interest dates are May 15 and November 15, the interest rate starting to accrue from November 15, 1931. Fully registered bonds of larger denominations running up to as high as $100,000 are also obtainable with the interest payable on these direct to the investor by government cheque.

All the banks in Canada and their branch offices are authorized to accept subscriptions as well as all recognized bond dealers throughout the Dominion.

General feeling in well-informed financial circles is that there will be adequate response on the part of the investing public to make this loan a great success. There is profound confidence among bankers and other leaders in the realm of finance, that Canada is making a wise authority that trust companies hold a substantial reservoir of funds which would come into service in connection with just such an offering as the Dominion of Canada is making.

These are encouraging factors which ought to crown the offering with success if the public at large second the efforts of financial organizations of the country.

Ward One Liberal Association Addressed By Major Fred Richardson, O.B.E.

The annual meeting of the Ward One Liberal Association was held yesterday evening at the Liberal rooms and was well attended. Major Fred Richardson, O.B.E., president of the Victoria Liberal Association, was the principal speaker, giving a review of the causes of the present depression.

He discussed the Dominion and provincial positions with regard to unemployment and presented a number of suggestions which he believed would ameliorate conditions.

Major Richardson was optimistic regarding the prospects of the Liberal party at the next provincial election. He discussed organization and recommended early and thorough preparation by the ward associations of Victoria as essential to victory at the polls.

Mrs. White of the Liberal Women's Forum, also spoke briefly.

T. B. Veitch was re-elected president, and I. Herman was chosen vice-president. W. Merriman was re-elected secretary and Mrs. T. B. Veitch was re-elected treasurer. The executive will consist of W. Graham, F. Sparks and Mrs. W. R. Fairclough.

LAWYER OUT OF JAIL

Juneau, Alaska, Nov. 26.—Henry Roden, pioneer Juneau attorney, who went to jail rather than pay a $200 fine for contempt of court, imposed when he called a witness in a trial a liar and refused to apologize, was released last yesterday when friends paid the fine. Contributions to the fund, which was started here Tuesday, were received by cable from Home and Ketchikan, where Roden is well known.

TO BE SENTENCED

Brandon, Man., Nov. 26.—Fred Elwood, eighteen, in police court here yesterday, pleaded guilty to fifteen charges of burglary. This solved a long string of house-breaking incidents here. Clever work by the police resulted in Elwood's capture after he had left one glove behind at the scene of a robbery. Considerable of the property was recovered, but some of the loot had been burned. He had a cache of jewelry in a woodshed. The magistrate remanded the youth until November 27 for sentence.

OLD-TIME SALES TALKS GIVEN AT ROTARY CLUB

Methods Used in "Gay Nineties" Demonstrated at Luncheon To-day

High pressure salesmanship of the "gay nineties," when virtually every customer was told of the great demand and small supply of the goods desired, was humorously portrayed by members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

Leading off the parade of salesmen, R. R. Webb gave an old-time quack doctor's ballyhoo talk on the values of a "cure-all" patent medicine, guaranteed to cure all human ailments.

R. T. Murphy presented a unique chandelier, "brand new" in 1910. Commenting on its "fly-speckled finish" and other merits, including non-plumming unreplaceable lamps, the electrician went into great detail over the features of the fixture.

Frank Doherty added to the humor of the stunt with a sales talk on an olive green Prince Albert coat and billycock hat.

Innumerable uses for the old-fashioned "bed warmer" were outlined by John Crann, who explained its usefulness as a frying pan, popcorn basket and wall decoration.

More Hart contributed a horse-weight of unique design, and Chet Downman added an automatic, non-glaring acetylene head lamp to the collection.

In one of the best presentations of the program, J. H. Fletcher gave a demonstration of the first gramophone used in Victoria, sending the audience into fits of laughter playing "Who Put the Overalls in Mr. Murphy's Chamber," the original record on which the instrument was tried. His arguments were convincing, but he failed to make a sale with his prospective customers.

Latest fashions in women's apparel were displayed by P. B. Scumrah, in selling a high-crowned hat, "only eight months out from Paris on the fastest sailing ship and guaranteed to remain in style for ten years."

Members of the Rotary Club were urged to take a greater interest in the provincial archives and library by Charles French at their luncheon to-day.

The Saanich branch of the National Unemployed Workers' Association will hold a social and dance in St. Mark's Hall, Boleskine Road, on Saturday evening, commencing at 8:30 o'clock.

The ladies of the First Spiritual Church will hold their monthly silver tea at the home of Mrs. Lord, 302 Kingston Street, on Thursday, December 3.

Mayor Ansonb stated this morning, in response to a query, that collection of a Christmas relief fund would not be undertaken this year because the war has made it impossible in existence, organized by Sir Frank Barnard, which had started distribution of help to needy families.

Falk grants next year all over British Columbia will be allocated in the government's present economy drive, it was announced yesterday. It was denied they would be eliminated altogether as has been suggested by some of the various agricultural organizations will be almost entirely eliminated.

Dunlop, Lansdowne Road, to hear a debate on the subject: "Resolved that it would be to the benefit of Vancouver Island to secede from Canada and become a Crown Colony." A series of pictures of Japan will be shown at 608 Craigflower Road by Percy E. Wells at 7 o'clock Friday night. All are welcome to attend. The action was brought in the name of the congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran St. Paul's Church against A. Herberger, Louis Schmeltz and Paul Schmeltz.

"If they are willing to deal with us in a sensible way, if not in a Christian way, we are prepared to meet them," said H. A. Maclean, K.C., defence counsel with Robert Yates and J. Stuart Yates.

"Letters are often written in heat and in them we are inclined to say things we don't fully mean," said Judge McIntosh, who is presiding. "I have now learned to tear such letters up."

The judge gave the two parties encouragement to forget their frictions and get together.

A. Beckwith, counsel for the congregation, claimed at the start of the case that on January 1, 1931, a meeting of the congregation elected H. Leubach, W. Deblat and A. Weise as deacons and G. Meyer, C. Huebner, H. Toews and Minnie Prikker as trustees. Then to their surprise, when they asked Herberger and the two Schmeltzes to deliver up to this new board the books, records, church bank book, corporate seal, certificates of title to church and land and other property, the three former officers refused to do so.

The congregation asked the court to compel Herberger and the Schmeltzes to return all the church belongings and pay $100 damages for the actions.

Mr. Maclean asserted that the congregation meeting for the election of the board was not duly called and held and the meeting which was held was therefore not legal.

"At present they have no right to custody of the property," Mr. Maclean said.

Witnesses on the stand were: John T. Mulhearn, Secretary Minnie Prikker and Pastor Dr. Albert Schormann.

The highly-touted Californian slipped over only one good blow. Ketchells head before the Salt Lake southpaw sent him sprawling on his back with a vicious clout. Hannah took a nine count and was up again on time enough to take another crack on the chin. After a second nine count the referee stopped the fight when Hannah went down the third time.

Cecil Geyzel, Seattle middleweight and Jack Gibbs, Minneapolis, drew it out in rounds. Gibbs landed the most blows but Geyzel tipped over the hardest. Both boys fell down and, when they got tangled up in wild rushes,

FAST HOCKEY GAME TO-NIGHT

Jokers to Clash With Jones Brothers in Feature Fixture; Buds Meet Monarchs

Although "Red" Lawson, hard-playing forward, will be back in the game, Jokers, leaders in the Senior Roller Hockey League, will still be below their full strength when they take the floor against Jones Brothers in this evening's feature at the King Rink. Ray Rickinson, smart defence man for the team, will be taking a rest through injuries sustained in last week's tussle.

Jokers will be meeting their traditional rivals in Jones Brothers, the team composed of players who beat them to the city championship last year. The Jones boys are still encouraged by the victory they scored over the Rovers on Tuesday and may throw a wrench into the Jokers' machinery. However, on paper, the latter are favorites.

The fixture will start at 8:30 o'clock. In the intermediate game, which will start an hour earlier, Rovers, league champions last year, will be out to stop the forward march of the Monarchs, the team which has gone through all its fixtures this year without a defeat.

Frank Whitford will referee both tussles.

Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, recognized in several states as the world heavyweight champion, successfully defended his title yesterday evening against the challenge of Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame football fullback. Lewis won the first and third falls, taking the final one in 9:15 in sensational fashion. After Savoldi had tried a series of flying tactics, the stranger grabbed him and hoisted him in the air by his feet. After a few minutes of letting Joe's head hover above the canvas, Lewis dumped him and fell on him to gain victory.

About 10,000 fans witnessed the match.

SEVENTEEN NEW MARKS ALLOWED

Women's Athletic Federation of Canada Approves Records; Officers Named

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Seventeen Canadian records were approved yesterday by the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada in annual convention here. The marks included the time of 25 2-5 seconds, established at Wetaskiwin, Alta., by Lillian May, Montreal, in the 200 metres; the 220-yard indoor mark of 25 7-10 seconds made by Stella Walsh, Cleveland, at Toronto, and for 50 yards, on an indoor dirt track, was awarded to Gertrude Phinney, Halifax, who covered the distance in 5 4-5 seconds.

The newly-organized branch in Saskatchewan was granted affiliation. Miss Alexandrine Gibb, Toronto, was elected president and Mrs. Myrtle Cook-McClowry of Montreal, secretary. Miss Gibb was elected by acclamation. Other officers elected included first vice-president, Miss Vic Ballis, Vancouver.

Discussions were all of a minor nature. Rival factions in women's sports were represented, but there were no signs of a flare-up.

Drennan Hincks and Mona Miller Win Six Of Badminton Titles

Make Clean-up in Finals of Garrison Club Tournament at Armories Yesterday Evening; Hincks and Hocking Take Men's Doubles and Miss Miller and Miss Oates Women's; Large Crowd Witnesses Championship Finals

In the finals of the Garrison Club badminton championships at the Bay Street Armories yesterday evening Mona Miller and Drennan Hincks made a clean-up of the titles. They each won all three events they appeared in and took the matches by decisive margins. A large crowd turned out to watch the deciding matches.

Mona Miller found little trouble taking the women's singles from Florence Oates by scores of 11-3, 11-3. Miss Oates put up a determined fight but fell before the mastery strokes of the city champion. Hugo Raymond fared little better than Miss Oates against Drennan Hincks in the men's singles final. Hincks was deadly overhead and made few mistakes.

Mona Miller and Florence Oates won the women's open doubles from Marion Pitts and Helen Nicholson, although early play in the first set was in favor of the losers. Miss Miller and Miss Oates played an uphill game during the first set and were down nearly all the way. Arriving at the setting stage of fourteen all, Miss Pitts and Miss Nicholson needed one more point for the first set but could not make the grade and the advantage was lost. The winners dropped only two points in the second set.

WIN EASILY
Drennan Hincks and Ross Hocking won the men's open doubles from Hugo Raymond and Edgar Woods for the most decisive win of the programme. It was expected to be a close match but the losers never got started and lost in a very quickly-played contest.

Miss Miller and Hincks again proved their superiority, when they defeated Miss Oates and Hocking with the loss of ten points in the two sets in the mixed doubles.

Helen Nicholson and Jimmy Gray won the mixed handicap final, defeating Miss Oates and Hocking with the loss of ten points in the two sets in the mixed doubles.

Bill Merton and Bill Dunbar won the men's handicap doubles from T. Matson and Col. Greer, 15-11, 15-5, while Mrs. H. E. Ridewood and Mrs. Victor Tremaine carried off the women's handicap honors.

Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, recognized in several states as the world heavyweight champion, successfully defended his title yesterday evening against the challenge of Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame football fullback. Telephone 2-4171Wheat Market Dull And All Futures Lose Ground To-day

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—Relying entirely on local support, wheat prices eased still further downward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. With American markets closed, the usual flow of trading from Chicago was cut off and the session generally was dull. Declines of from 1c to 1½c were shown at the close.

November dropped 1 to 59½; December, 1 to 1½ at 59½; May, 1½ to 1½ at 63½; and July 1½ to 1½ at 64½.

Late strength at Liverpool failed to induce buyers here. Minor rallies, however, lifted quotations slightly above the day's low points.

To-day's Grain Markets*WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—Sharp upturn in Liverpool market caused the local wheat prices to react after a break of 1½ cents during the first hour of this morning. However, the market was more or less of a holiday affair with only a small trade passing. Locals pressed the market at the start based on weak cables and weak sterling and to the fact that no export business had been received overnight.

On the break there was not the stop loss selling that was expected to come out between 64 and 65 cents for the May and with the stronger close at Liverpool local shorts covered up and most of the earlier losses were recovered, but there was little or no export business, just a small local trade passing.

With all American markets closed to-day there was very little outside interest being shown and it was generally understood that no export business was being worked, even on the break.

In the cash market there was a little shipping demand for the straight grades, but there was no change in the flour situation, a fair demand being reported with practically nothing being done in export channels. Black Sea shipments this week are small, being 2,488,000 bushels, of which Russia shipped only 448,000 bushels. The cause of the upturn at Liverpool was not given.

The trade opinion appeared to be somewhat mixed, many looking for lower levels due to the small foreign demand for North American wheat, with harvesting in Argentina now under way in both the north and central areas, where the weather is now generally favorable, while others look upon wheat prices as very cheap, especially for hard spring wheat, such as Canadians have to sell.

Winnipeg futures closed rather weak, showing losses for the day of 1 to 1½ cents.

Coarse grains—These markets were all lower, rye being especially weak, with considerable liquidation going on. Trade volume was light, generally with a poor demand for everything. Oats closed ½ to 1½ lower, barley ½ to 1½, and rye 1½ to 3 cents lower.

Flax—This market was also weak, closing 2½ to 2½ lower.

Notes—Liverpool due ½ to 1½ up, based on Winnipeg.

NARROW RANGE AT MONTREAL

With Wall Street Closed Market Virtually Stagnant and Marked Time

Canadian Press
Montreal, Nov. 26.—Montreal stock market moved within an exceedingly narrow range in dull trading to-day. Lacking the leadership of Wall Street, the local market marked time.

Virtual stagnation ruled throughout the day. External developments of the last few days, with a bearing upon the stock market, tended to foster conservative tendencies to-day.

Canadian Pacific Railway was off 1½ on the day at 16½. Brazilian at 11 was down ¼. International Nickel at 9½ was off ¼.

St. Lawrence Paper pfd. firmed ¼ to 13. Steel of Canada common lost a point at 23. Viaw Discult lost ½ at 8½.

Majority of restricted stocks were quoted at their minimum prices.

FEW CHANGES ON TORONTO MINES

Stocks Practically Unchanged From Yesterday in Quiet Trading

Canadian Press
Toronto, Nov. 26.—A slightly easier trend in quiet trade remained the rule throughout to-day's session on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market. With United States markets closed for the Thanksgiving holiday, stocks held practically unchanged.

Some selling pressure developed in Grange, depressing the price to a low of $150 for a net loss of 8. Moss, Vipond and Big Missouri dipped a cent each, and Ribago and Moffatt-Hall were fractionally lower.

Chibougamau Prospectors was fairly active, and a little higher in price, and the majority of base metals were steady. Noranda softened a little in late transactions to close down a fraction, while odd lots of Smelters turned over at $70, off $1. Oils and silvers were in the discard.

CIVIL SERVANTS MAY BUY BONDS

Professional Institute of Service in Annual Session Endorses Loan

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Arrangement with the government for civil servants to purchase bonds in the National Service Loan by regular deductions from their pay cheques will be sought by the Professional Institute of the Civil Service. At the concluding session of a three-day convention here to-day, the incoming executive was asked to request inauguration of the scheme. The institute decided to buy $1,000 Service Loan Bonds from its funds.

Dr. E. S. Archibald, superintendent of experimental farms, Department of Agriculture, was installed as seventh president of the institute to-day. Regional vice-presidents elected included Alberta and Saskatchewan, C. F. Steel, Calgary; British Columbia and Yukon, G. H. Whyte, Vancouver.

LONDON WOL AUCTION

London, Nov. 26.—A good selection and brisk general competition were evidenced at yesterday's opening of the wool sales. The bulk of the offerings was secured by the home trade and by Germany.

Merinoes: Greatest sold from 10 to 15 cents a pound; soured inferior, 30 to 40; other merinoes and crossbreds and alipes mostly 20 to 30 cents higher. South African wools were not offered.

Soured combing merinoes from Queensland sold from 24 cents to 49. Greasy merinoes from Melbourne fetched 30 cents and New Zealand half-bred greasy lambs sold at 24½.

FOREIGN MARKETS

London—Prices on the Stock Exchange were weak most of the day due to the decline in sterling. German and Brazilian bonds were weak. The closing was uncertain after prices had only recovered partially.

Paris—Weakness in the English pound and other commodities caused a heavy opening on the Bourse to-day. Some early losses, however, were retrieved. The closing was irregular.

EMPLOYS MORE WORKMEN

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 26.—Officials of the Pierce Arrow Motor Car Company said yesterday 800 employees had been taken back on the payroll during the last thirty days. The payroll now contains approximately 3,000 names.

Winnie Lightner Stars In Picture at Capitol

Interesting Feature of Circus Life, Entitled "Side Show," Opens Here To-day for Three-day Showing

There have been circus pictures galore in the history of motion pictures, some of them devoted to a dramatic theme, others to comedy, but the film that embraces all these elements against that ever-colorful circus background, is "Side Show," the Warner Bros. picture which opens to-day at the Capitol Theatre.

Winnie Lightner is here cast in the finest role of her career. She is the central figure in a dramatic love story which forms the basis of the film. She is in love with the Barker, played by Donald Cook, and their affair smoothly until her youngest sister, Evalyn Knapp, insists on joining the circus. Ignorant of her sister's affair, Evalyn falls in love with Cook. The story develops into a conflict between Winnie's love for the Barker and for her sister, whose happiness she seeks.

It is all done so smoothly, thanks to Roy Del Ruth's direction, that there is never a jarring note between the elements of drama, comedy and the general color of circus life. It is in reality three evenings' entertainment in one.

Charles Butterworth comes very prominently to the fore as Captain Sidney, trainer of seals.

Western Thriller Is At Columbia Theatre With Splendid Cast

Barbara Luddy and B. Steele Have Leading Roles in New Picture "Headin' North"

Realism seems to be the watchword among producers of Western talking pictures these days. If the case of young and pretty Barbara Luddy, leading woman of Bob Steele in his latest picture, "Headin' North," now at the Columbia Theatre, is a criterion.

For Miss Luddy is a born-and-bred Westerner herself, having as a birthplace Helena, Montana. All her childhood and youthful associations were typically western. It is no wonder, then, that the role of the western heroine is an easy one to portray.

Miss Luddy started her professional career as a singer, and at the age of fourteen and a half, going to school in Los Angeles, she began to get extra parts in pictures. Picked out of an extra crowd, she was soon chosen for two leading roles opposite Gullen Landis.

Frederic March, co-star with Tallulah Bankhead in "My Sin," now at the Dominion Theatre, finally "found" himself in the dramatic profession after several abortive ventures in business. Contrary to popular conception he was not born to the stage. Fate drew him there.

The environments of early life and the influences that usually control one's destiny all pointed toward a banking career for March, but chance and a desire to find happiness in his life work ultimately led him to the stage.

In "My Sin," March shares stellar honors with Tallulah Bankhead. He throws into his character part of "Dick Grady," a vigorous impersonation imbued with a subtle technique acquired through long dramatic training. It is a strong human interest story in which the leading characters are shown with reputations shattered, self-respect lost and character almost submerged. The scene shifts from the tropics to New York where redemption through love brings back self-respect. Marie Prevost has a penchant for dogs, and was delighted when she learned that she would have to carry one in her role of Trisie Barnes in "The Good Bad Girl." Having a preference for long-haired breeds, she audibly expressed the hope to her fellow players that the canine companion provided for her in this picture would be of this type. Imagine her disappointment when the animal appeared and proved to be a specimen of the hairless Mexican breed. However, a dog is a dog to Marie. She made overtures to the queer looking stranger, which were amicably received, and after that the two were inseparable. "The Good Bad Girl" is a Columbia picture and is showing to-day at the Empire Theatre.

Dramatic Picture Of Married Life Shows On Playhouse Screen

A daring frank story, pointing in terms of unvarnished truth the home-wrecking consequences of a husband's "pleasant sins" is told in "Damaged Love."
